

DGfE2024

62nd Annual Conference of the German Epilepsy Society (German Section of the ILAE)

June 12th–15th, 2024 | Offenburg Germany

International Day: June 13th 2024

Dear colleagues,

the Annual Conference of the German Epilepsy Society will take place in Offenburg, a town which is located in the southwestern region of Germany close to the black forest, near Switzerland and France.

For the first time, we invite you to visit the International Day. All lectures presented in the main conference hall on June 13th will be held in English. We expect exiting contributions by honorable speakers from Germany and several European countries. You may register for the complete congress or only one day (day ticket). Find out more at www.epilepsie-tagung.de
