

Eli M. Mizrahi, MD is Chair of the Department of Neurology and Professor of Neurology and Pediatrics, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, Texas, USA. For over two decades he has represented ILAE addressing issues related to neonatal seizures and epilepsy of infancy and childhood as member of the Commission on Pediatrics, the joint ILAE/WHO Task Force on Neonatal Seizures Guidelines, and the Task Force on Guidelines for Seizures in Infancy. He has served on the board of directors of the American Epilepsy Society and the Epilepsy Foundation of America, and as President of the American Clinical Neurophysiology Society. He received the Stiftung Michael and the AES Clinical Research Award for his work on neonatal seizures. Dr. Mizrahi graduated from Emory University and University of Miami School of Medicine. He trained in pediatrics at Albert Einstein College of Medicine, neurology at Stanford University, and clinical neurophysiology at Baylor. He then joined the Baylor faculty where he eventually served as Head of the Peter Kellaway Section of Neurophysiology; Director, Baylor Comprehensive Epilepsy Center; and Chief, Neurophysiology Services of St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital and Texas Children's Hospital.