

Franz Chaves-Sell was born in Cordoba., Argentina in 1961 and spent part of his childhood and teenage years between Argentina, Brazil and Costa Rica.

He studied Medicine and Neurology at the University of Costa Rica and Universidad Autonoma Of Central America and continued post-graduate studies in epileptology at the Saint Vincent de Paul Hospital in Paris, between 1989 and 1991, with Professor Olivier Dulac.

Upon returning to Costa Rica in the early'90s, he was appointed chief of Neurology at the Hospital Clinica Biblica and professor of Internal Medicine and Neurology at the University of Medical Sciences in San Jose. He is a founding member of the Costa Rica ILAE chapter and its Chairman for 8 years now.

He is also a member of the American Academy of Neurology and the National Academy of Medicine.

He has given lectures at numerous international conferences, published chapters in books on epilepsy and has over 20 publications of original articles in international journals.

Doctor Chaves-Sell is also a member of the National Institutes of Health, USA, Center for Scientific Review and International Brain Disorders Review Group.

As a member of the ILAE Latin American Commission, he has been in charge of the regional webpage in a continue effort to improve the availability to access important and modern knowledge on Epilepsy to health providers in the region.

